CONSENT

Persons entering the site and/or building do so at their own risk. The building contractor/owner assumes no liability for personal injury or damage to property suffered by the photographer and/or their employees/persons accompanying them. The photographer is required to comply with the applicable accident prevention regulations and to follow the instructions given by the site management/building supervisors. The photographer must obtain all of the public law permits, etc., required for their activities and fulfill any associated requirements on their own responsibility (e.g., special requirements for drone photography/filming). If the creation and/or use of the photographs/recordings involves the processing of personal data (in particular when photographing or filming people), the photographer must satisfy the obligations imposed on them by the applicable data protection regulations. With respect to the corresponding data processing, the photographer is deemed to be the controller within the meaning of Article 4(7) of the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

The photographer will coordinate the photography/filming dates and times with the competent site management/building supervisors. Before entering the building, the photographer must report to the competent site management/building supervisors, carry this agreement with them at all times when on the site/in the building, and show it when requested to do so.

The photographer agrees to keep confidential (e.g., not disclose to the press, radio, television, etc.) all information, knowledge, documents and other matters to which they become privy during the course of the joint cooperation.

The photographer may only use the images and recordings for purposes other than those agreed herein (e.g., on social media, in illustrated books), and thus promote them, with the prior written consent of the person giving approval. Each use of company names, trademarks and other protected designations of the building contractor/owner or their affiliated companies for purposes other than those agreed herein requires the prior written consent of the building contractor/owner. This agreement shall not operate to confer any rights in or to intellectual property (e.g., patents, utility models, trademarks, designs) or license to use intellectual property, copyrights and related proprietary rights or any other rights, nor impose any obligation to grant any such rights. This agreement applies for an indefinite term.
